Minotaur V Rockets:

Minotaur V is an American expendable launch system derived from the Minotaur IV. It was developed by Orbital Science Corporation (OSC) and made its maiden flight on 7th September. Minotaur V is a five staged vehicle and is designed to place up to 630kg of payload into GTO orbit. One of the main launch pads of this rocket is Space Launch Complex 8.This rocket has a height of 24.56m and a diameter of 2.34m with a mass of 89,373kg.Its payload to GTO is 532kg and a payload of 342kg to TLI. This rocket has a STAR-37 as a fifth stage. Two variants are available in the rocket.